FAQ

Santa and Mrs. Claus are coming! Book early, dates go fast!

They usually need a place to hide before they get started so it's a surprise for everyone. They say that they came on the sleigh, the reindeer are at a local farm chowing down on carrots and some special hay that helps make them fly better.....

You might want to provide a small table with a chair, some crayons, and/or pencils and paper so the kids can write their letters before they see Santa, in case they can't remember what they want or are very shy. Also a mirror, so they know they are ready for their photo. It gives them a wee bit of confidence.

Before Santa comes in, Mrs. Claus can read a story about Christmas or the North Pole, or the helpful elves, and the toys, and of course the reindeer.

Santa's Workshop or The Night Before Christmas are good ones, to get the party started.

Both Santa and Mrs. Claus need a bottled water hidden somewhere. It does get a bit warm in velvet.... but they will live to tell about it!

Don't forget to consider having a DJ or Live Music. We do have some Christmas music, and would be happy to bring it along, but this needs to be discussed and arranged.

A real ballerina dancing Nutcracker is a magical treat. Every once in a while, a small group of little ones who belong to a troupe will perform just for the experience, and, if that happens, we let them sit on Santa's knee too, and become part of the party. Nothing cuter than a tiny twirler talking to Santa!
